

New Mobile Application Aims to Tackle Sexual and Gender Based Violence (SGBV) in Uganda

Knowledge working for better application in the world of work for the best of our people.

In a groundbreaking move to address the pressing issue of Sexual and Gender Based Violence (SGBV) in Uganda, the National Communications Authority (NCA) has introduced a new mobile application designed to help victims report incidents and seek support.

The app, developed in partnership with local NGOs, allows users to report incidents, seek legal advice, and access support services. It is available in both English and Luganda, ensuring accessibility for a wide range of users.

The app is a significant step towards addressing SGBV in Uganda, providing a safe and confidential platform for victims to report incidents and seek support. It is a testament to the power of technology in addressing social issues and improving the lives of vulnerable populations.